(Leavenworth, Kan.)—The University of Saint Mary Overland Park Campus is holding the second in its series of free network events—a seminar on “Standing out in Today’s Crowded Job Market”—from 5:30-7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 1, at the Ritz Charles at 9000 W. 137th St. in Overland Park, Kan. Winifred Williams, Ph.D., vice president of human resources for Sisters of Charity of Leavenworth Health System hospitals in Kansas will be the featured speaker.

The event is free, but seating is limited. Sign up at stmary.edu/success or call 913-345-8288.

Williams will give attendees advice on navigating through the modern technology-based job market and on how to catch an employer’s eye, as well as tips on taking an innovative approach and remaining competitive through self re-invention.

Attendees will also get the chance to learn about how they can advance both their education and their careers with the graduate and degree-completion programs available at USM’s Overland Park Campus. USM instructors, financial aid and admissions advisors, and admissions counselors will be on hand to answer questions about the university’s accelerated programs.

“In this challenging job market, success is all about standing out,” said Ken Wuerzberger, USM’s director of enrollment management. “That’s why many working adults are advancing their education to help make themselves highly marketable—and that’s where we’re here to help.”

USM offers five graduate programs—including the Saint Mary MBA that is now available in a flexible format featuring face-to-face evening classes, online sessions, or a combination of both to fit busy schedules. The Overland Park Campus also offers graduate programs in education and psychology, in addition to five different undergraduate degree-completion programs.

The network event will also feature free appetizers, beverages, and prize drawings.
